

Founder's Story

John McHugh, President
The JG McHugh Group

I began my journey as a newsie at the age of 10 in St. Louis, where I collected payments from people who subscribed to newspapers. It wasn't just about counting coins; I became skilled at counting the extra tips! Throughout high school and college, I continued working to support myself, which taught me valuable skills like listening to people, understanding them, and being good with numbers. After college, I landed a job at a well-known Fortune 500 company. I worked hard and eventually became the Director of Financial Reporting there. This was an exciting start to my career and led me into the financial services industry. I had the opportunity to work at different places like Merrill Lynch, Oppenheimer, and Wells Fargo Advisors. Finally, I fulfilled my dream of owning my own business, The JG McHugh Group.

Now, it's been three decades since I started, and I still have a passion for what I do. Every morning, I'm delighted to help clients and advisors achieve their financial goals. The best part is when a client says, "John, thank you for helping us achieve our dreams!" That's why I chose this career, and it's the most fulfilling feeling in the world.

Plan For Your Future

There is no one "best place" to put your savings because each individual and couple has unique requirements, different tolerances for risk, and need their money at different times. Likewise, there is no one place to keep your money that fits everyone for the same reasons. Your unique circumstances must be taken into consideration if you seek to find the "most favorable place" for your retirement money. This is where we can be of service.

Mission Statement

The JG McHugh Group and our valued partner, WealthTrust Asset Management, are deeply committed to our clients and fellow advisors. We don't just think about what's good for us; we prioritize what's best for you.

Our team goes through thorough training to live up to this commitment. Our approach is careful and well-organized: we gather important details from clients and advisors, explain what makes us unique, and once we agree to work together, we create a plan tailored to your VisionScape Financial Blueprint. We always stay watchful, keeping an eye on progress and adjusting the plan if needed.

You can trust The JG McHugh Group for strong knowledge about managing capital, while WealthTrust is your top choice for asset management and expert advice.
